

ABSTRACT

A method and apparatus is disclosed which allows for automatic configuration of communications services within a communication system dependent upon certain pre-defined criteria and external parameters.

Figure 2.

10